Women's Curfew More Liberal

Last week Miss Rose Fernandez, Director of Women, announced to The Lion the changes in the women's curfew, which will become effective November 21. The proposed changes, a result of extensive study, were submitted to and accepted by Dr. Southard in their entirety.

There has been controversy surrounding the curfew issue for the past few years with no real steps taken in attaining a solution.

Miss Fernandez, realizing something must be done, undertook the task and set a thorough outline of research and study to attain information before attempting to reconstruct its present system.

The first actual step in securing information was to send a questionnaire to 95 colleges similar in size to St. Leo, inquiring about the information pertaining to their women's curfew.

The National Association of Women Deans and Counselors provided a list of publications and research material on the subject. The results of the survey were tabulated and along with the research information and studies, a basic program revision was made.

An observation and evaluation of the needs and past conduct of women students at St. Leo College was made and in conjunction helped in determining the newly instituted program.

The proposed change gives the sophomore, junior, and senior girls the freedom in regulating their hours. Restrictions are placed only upon freshmen. First semester freshmen must be in by 11:00 on Sunday to Thursday and 2:00 a.m. on weekends. Second semester, the week night curfew will be extended an hour to 12:00.

The sign-in, sign-out will continue to be observed. The new policy does not mean girls under twenty-one years old can live off campus. Women students wishing to spend a weekend away must continue to obtain written permission from parents and leave weekend slips with the head resident.

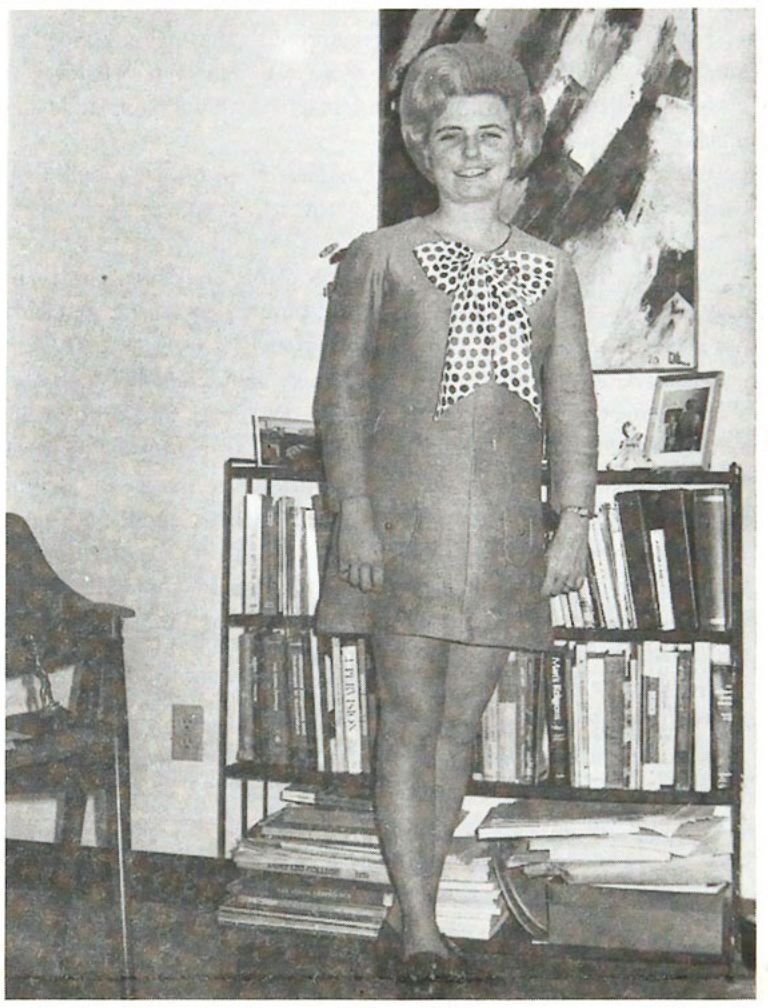
Security guards will remain responsible for opening and closing the doors. The doors will be closed 11:30 Sunday to Thursday and 2:00 on Friday and Saturday.

The change in curfew is on trial basis and will be evaluated at the end of the year with the Department of Student Affairs reserving the right to make necessary modifications.

The new curfew was made public at a general meeting of women students, which followed a discussion on Women's Lib, Monday night, which started Women's Week. Women's Week continued Tuesday evening with a panel of representatives from companies and agencies to inform girls on career opportunities. Georgette Hightower, fashion editor of the St. Petersburg Times and former fashion coordinator for Maas Brothers, spoke on new trends in women's fashions on Wednesday night.

Mary Grizzle, State Representative and Chairman of the Florida Commission on the status of women, spoke about "women in leadership roles, especially in the field of politics." Also there will be art exhibits of the works of women students in the Marmion Lounge.

It seems quite appropriate that the change in women's curfew was announced after a discussion on Women's Lib.



Miss Rose Fernandez, Director of Women, the person most responsible for the changes concerning women's curfew. The changes, which go into effect on November 21, will grant non-freshmen more liberal hours on weekends.

Plans Made for Winter Weekend '71

Winter Weekend 1971 plans are presently being finalized. However, The Lion has received the following list of events which will be held. Herewith are the events which will mark Winter Weekend.

On Thursday evening, December 2, Winter Weekend will officially begin with the annual Christmas concert. This year's concert, which will be sponsored by the S.G.A. and coordinated by Kappa Theta fraternity, will feature the sounds of Canned Heat. The concert will be held in the Marion Bowman Activity Center. Admission to the concert will be free of charge for students of the college and $2.00 for faculty, administration, and outside people.

Friday evening there will be the judging of the Christmas Card contest. The results will be announced at the formal, Saturday evening.

On the evening of December 5, Alpha Sigma sorority and the S.G.A. will sponsor the annual Winter Weekend Formal which will be held in the McDonald Cafeteria. Beginning at 8:30 p.m. there will be a champagne party followed by the dance, complete with an open bar.

Following the dance, there will be a breakfast at 2:00 a.m.

Admission to the dance will be $10.00 per couple.

Part of the crowd in Tampa, estimated at 1,000, marches in protest of the Vietnamese War.

War Protest

An estimated crowd of one thousand people, including a contingent of thirty-five St. Leo students, marched through the streets in Tampa, Saturday, November 6th, in protest to the war and the nuclear test at Amchitka, Alaska.

The march, organized by the Student Mobilization Committee at South Florida, assembled in a lot behind the Tampa library and marched, in orderly fashion, to the Hillsborough County Courthouse.

Police estimated that the number of demonstrators was low. They mingled with the crowds to procure candid shots (still and moving) of marchers to identify the troublemakers as a requisite of the police department's routine.

Ahead of the marchers was a contingent of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW). They revised mock "search and destroy missions." The bloodied bodies of volunteer victims were stacked for an "official" body count.

Leaflets were distributed en route to the courthouse envisioning Tampa as a Vietnamese village. They contained such abhorrent phrases as: "Shot your dog." "Raped your wife and daughter, before they killed them." "Destroyed your home." "Burned your crops and town." "Killed you."

The thirty-five St. Leo Students followed the Lion Banner to the courthouse where all listened raptly to the commencing rally.

Scott Camile, regional coordinator for the VVAW, played a tape of an army surgeon prisoner of war urging termination of the war.

Job Hobb, U.S.F. wheelchair student, voiced his disgust and anger with the war. His face was covered with war paint which he said symbolized there "would be no peace at home, until there is peace in Vietnam."

Otha Favors, black militant from Tampa, expounded upon the interference of integration with black self-determination.

Mrs. Ruth Colby, a national coordinator of the National Peace Action Coalition (NPAC), condemned President Nixon's policy in Southeast Asia and the wage-price freeze.

The only marring incident of the day was the arrest of Pete Rooney, a U.S.F. SMC leader, for "malicious trespassing" while distributing leaflets at the National Guard parking lot. His trial is scheduled for November 24.

A College Student's Thanksgiving

It happens every year about this time. Some priest or straight-set citizens tells us kids to remember God and all the things we must be thankful for. Each year, as I've aged, I found myself asking God for more and thanking him for less. Until now.

I can't understand the rapid metamorphosis that has enveloped me. Maybe I've mellowed at the ripe old age of nineteen. Whatever the reason, I realize that we college students, with all our complaints, have much to be thankful for.

Life at times may seem to be an endless bore, but we should thank God for giving us life to be bored with. Can you imagine what a bummer non-existence would be?

We must thank him for creating the plants and fruits, which not only add beauty to our environment, but are a necessary ingredient to our weekend rituals. Who planted the first seeds?

Thank God for our friends: the freaky kid across the hall who's always borrowing records, the alcoholic that bangs on the door at 4 a.m., and the roommate who stays awake half the night listening to you talk about the girl you almost made it with. And the chic you tell your problems to, the certain one who makes living worth it, with just a smile. What would we do without them?

And our parents who nag us about our hair, complain for not writing home enough, and send us care packages for the midnight munchies. Thank you, God, for making them exist.

And finally, thank you, God, for being God, for who would us often lost and searching college kids turn to in time of fear and loneliness?

And forgive us, God, for we ask for so much and, evidenced by our empty church, thank you for so little.

I realize we have many things to be thankful for, for without you there would be no Thanksgiving.

Peace

Letters to the Editor

To the "almost a publication"; at P.O. Box 2126

Enclosed find unwanted copy of November 6th bullshit advertisement.

It would be appreciated by many people on this campus (those of us with brains) if your staff could learn to write something other than the war and the food.

You go to this asinine march with the other jellyfishes, I'll stay home and anxiously await your next issue of the "Shit Sheet".

From the sickened reader
at P.O. Box 2135

Dear Sickened.

Why don't you use your brains and show us brainless jellyfishes (sic) how to improve our almost publication.

Thank you,

More from the Senate

Dear Editor:

After reading The Lion's article on the SGA I felt it was my obligation to write and express my opinion of the Senate. As far as I can see, it can be the most effective organization on campus, but until some things get together it will function poorly.

A lot of people have been talking about organization and technicalities. I believe, in doing so, they have overlooked the most important aspect of any organization – that is "togetherness." The reason there is no unity is because of the people in the Senate. No one is working together. There is no communication between Senate members, possibly it's because of a few cliques which seem to carry a lot of weight in the Senate. People seem to be afraid to speak out. Instead of working together they seem to be working against each other and then lower it to a personal basis. In doing this we seem to forget what our function is and that is to be the "one" voice of the students. Without this oneness the Senate will be as effective as those individuals who compose it and as we have seen that hasn't been very much.

Sincerely,
Chuck Durnin

Dear Editor:

After reading your last edition of The Lion, I would like to express my feelings toward the Senate.

I am serving on the Senate for my second year now and I feel it is something the campus really needs. I was very disappointed in some of the Senators' comments, especially the Anonymous people who weren't big enough to state their names. If you are annoyed at the way things in the Senate are being done, come out and say it, and then at least we will know WHO is annoyed.

In answer to one of the questions. We are not going by Robert Ryan's Rules. We follow the constitution as best we know how. Patrick is doing a fine job. Maybe he gets irritable at times, but don't you too? Patrick wants responsible people to help him. There is so much to be accomplished and you can't throw it back on to Peter, or Patrick, or Elly or Pat. They all need cooperation and if we Senators are willing to cooperate, our Senate will be as powerful as it should. We need the Senate. Let's make the best of it.

Sincerely,
Rita Silvestro

Dear Editor:

Concerning the article about the S.G.A., I would like to throw in my two cents also. It seems as though the people who have the most to say won't tell us who they are. So to "Anon" I feel I can say as a senator (a voted-in one at that) that Pat Ryan does a fine job. He goes through such a hassle every meeting, not unlike Catch 22. If the meetings are too long people complain, but if Pat cuts discussions short people still complain. So what is he to do? As for us being an "ineffective student structure," I fully disagree. A small example is that Third Floor Priory now has a new telephone; not to mention all that the Social Committee has done thus far. But I don't pretend to hold the idea true that there is no room for improvement – of course there is (I just don't know where). I have spoken my piece; it's your turn to print it.

Thank you,
Patti Donahue

TO: The Editors of The Lion

This is in response to an "Anonymous" statement which appeared in the last edition of The Lion.

You stated that "there is a definite need for a greater harmony between the President of the Senate and the senators," and you are right. There can never be "too good" a communication line between two people.

Senators have been encouraged to voice their opinions in an open and honest manner. They have been encouraged to stop by the S.G.A. office and submit constructive criticism. We have set up specific times for each senator to be interviewed, and during this meeting, senators were encouraged to comment on the direction of the Student Government Association, the attitudes of the senators and officers, the way the meetings are conducted, etc., and approximately 90% of the senators have at one time or another done just that.

But what about the other 10% who refuse to take advantage of these opportunities: What do we do with the senators like yourself who have never implied (by word or otherwise) that they did not appreciate something. What do we do with senators, who do not have the decency to take the time and effort to suggest solutions to existing problems? What do we do with senators who refuse to be honest? If you have a suggestion please come forward, otherwise stop moaning.

You also stated that "Patrick did choose those senators he wanted to work with." The only senators that were chosen, were 10 senators-at-large. (For your own information, the S.G.A. constitution allows the President of the senate to choose 15 senators-at-large).

So "Anonymous" all I am asking is that if you don't like something that pertains either directly or indirectly to the Student Senate, please tell me. I cannot read minds, nor will I ever attempt to try. If you can't tell me to my face, that's your problem and not mine.

Thank you,
J. Patrick Ryan
President, Student Senate

P.S. "Anonymous", if you really believe in something, don't be afraid to sign your name to it. I

Phi Theta Chi

The brothers of Phi Theta Chi would like to thank all those who donated to St. Anthony's Blood Bank. A record of 172 pints of blood were received. Special thanks go to John View who did an outstanding job organizing the Blood Bank.

The Rush program is in full swing. Final bids were due November 14. We would like to take this opportunity to thank all those men who have attended our smokers and we hope to see you all around pledge time.

The third annual Tahitian Feast is being planned for December 10 at the Knights of Columbus Hall in San Antonio. All the beer and roast beef you can drink and eat plus live music. Prices are $3.00 stag, $5.00 drag.

The Big Red closed their football season on Sunday against Kappa Alpha Sigma. The team was led by a backfield of Johnny Whipp, "Easy Ed" Flannigan, and Tim Makowski. Also congrats go out to Alpha Sigma Chi for winning the football championship this year.

Kappa Alpha Sigma

The brothers of Kappa Alpha Sigma are proud to congratulate Dennis Buckley on being named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universitites. We also congratulate Janet Jones, our sweetheart, for being made an honorary sister of Delta Phi Delta.

In sports, the brothers suffered a hard-fought 10-2 loss to ΑΣΧ. John Jones, Tony Lupo, Barry Pandiani, Dennis Krish, and the entire defensive unit did outstanding jobs in our losing effort. Our congratulations go out to ΑΣΧ and we now look forward to our next game with Kappa Theta.

At presnet we are busy constructing our new frat house and the completion of the obstacle course for St. Anthony's School in San Antonio.

We wish to thank all who came to our last smoker and "light show", and look forward to seeing you all at our next one this coming week. We also hope everyone had a good time at the Halloween party and we especially thank Jerry Butler and Terry McNamara for all the time and effort they put into it.

We all wish Jack Taylor a speedy recovery from his operation, which could prove to be a new high point in his life. Rumor that attempted manslaughter charges are being brought against John O'Rourke by Bob Wallace and Bob Doherty, just because he ran them over, are total unfounded.

Weightlifting Club in Full Swing

In four weeks the weightlifting club has managed to "put it all together." It has re-embarked on a program started three years ago geared towards all aspects of physical fitness. Its program is easily adaptable to everyone regardless of physical characteristics. In short, it has a program for everyone (except girls, I'm sorry to say).

Despite his busy schedule, baseball Coach Meyer has enthusiastically volunteered to act as moderator and advisor. The program now is in full swing thanks to the dedication of Athletic Director Norm Kaye who worked with the officers in securing the use of the balcony of the gym for the club's training program.

After the first week the club elected three officers to spearhead the program. They are: Seniors, Jerry Butler - President from Summit, New Jersey; Eddie Pierce - Vice President from Albany, New York; and Freshman, Everett Natale from Providence, Rhode Island, who is Secretary-Treasurer.

Under the direction of former student at St. Leo and NCAA Weightlifting Champ, Paul Jean, the weightlifting club is destined to obtain the prominence it had in 1967 under his firm guidance.

Alpha Sigma Chi

The Brothers of Alpha Sigma Chi would like to thank all those people who contributed to the recent motorcycle raffle. We wish to thank Bob Smalley, Bill Banks, and Mike Marino for their hard work in making this raffle a success.

A belated congratulations goes to Rod Deutscher who was made an honorary brother of the Fraternity earlier this year.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all who have attended our past smokers and would like to wish our present rushes good luck in the future.

Recently our football team won its last game of the season, giving us our first undefeated season to date. A special thanks goes to the coaches, Bill Donovan and John Pellicci for their superb work in making our team what it is.

Finally we would like to congratulate "Turtle" for being selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

New Health Center

The new Saint Leo Health Center which has replaced the old Saint Leo Dispensary is now open twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week.

This is a remarkable improvement in school health services, for last year the old dispensary's hours were from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., five days a week and on weekends whenever it was necessary.

This year, students have full use of the former abbey infirmary. This is due to the kindness of the monks of Saint Leo Abbey.

The health center's personnel include registered nurses, who are on duty from 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., five days a week, and 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on weekends. At all other times there is a nurse's aid on duty.

Dr. John Buckingham, from Saint Joseph's Hospital in Tampa, comes on Mondays from 9:30 to 4:00 p.m. The students are required to make appointments to see the doctor as you do in an ordinary doctor's office or clinic.

Dr. John Buckingham interned at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. He received his public health degree from John Hopkins University. At present he is head of the emergency room at St. Joseph's.

There are additional charges for additional services such as laboratory tests run at St. Joseph's Hospital and some medication. These fees are approximately one-half of what a student would pay in a regular clinic or doctor's office.

Members of the college community are invited to drop in at the health center to see what is available.

This health center is something that the college community has needed for the past few years. The medical services need more money for further plans. As Sister Lucy, Dean of Student Affairs, has said, "We have come a long way in health services in one short year. We are continuously evaluating our present program and projecting plans for next year. Money is an important factor. Medical services are very expensive."

have very little respect for anyone who is brave enough to openly criticize an elected student representative, but isn't brave enough to sign it. (Signing something Anonymous never made it, and never will.)

My dear friend, Leo the Lion,

What has happened to you? Where is the Leo of former times who tried so hard to project an image of the courageous warrior? Where is the alert, responsive Leo who showed by example that life should be led unflinchingly and reality should be grasped eagerly; that we should roar out against all forms of inequity, and strive with all our might to eradicate them?

It has pierced my heart to see you reject this noble Leo and to replace him with an emaciated, stupefied and apathetic creature.

It is my sincere hope that you will stop drifting in dreamworlds; start ripping into reality; and once again, roar out with passionate conviction as an example for all.

Your concerned friend,
Frank Kiley

Dear Frank,

If the masthead is the subject in question, the editor has the right to regulate it as he sees fit.

The Lion still projects ideas and opinions with conviction, however, he has chosen to join the increasing number of pacifists. "A Ripping, Roaring Warrior" just doesn't make it anymore.

Criticizing the Critic

Dear Sir:

Except for the intention of evoking student reaction to The Lion, I am unable to perceive the justification for the tawdry, cynical sneers, presumably intended to pass for a play review on "Wait Until Dark".

Disregarding, for the most part, the positive aspects, the reviewer (?) projected a thoroughly negative attitude, making inane and ambiguous remarks and expressing unhealthy obsession with inconsequential minutiae.

One doesn't have to be an expert on criticism in order to recognize exaggerated and undeserved ridicule.

One should remain sensitive to the difficulties and obstacles in directing and staging a production. This does not mean, however, that one should not expect quality; but, at the same time, one should not concentrate on minor flaws to the exclusion of more prominent good elements.

I have been thoroughly entertained by such plays; and I would like to congratulate Mr. Moyer, the Theatre Department, and the many dedicated performers and technicians for greatly enriching the atmosphere at Saint Leo College.

Sincerely yours,
Frank Kiley

Dear Frank,

The critic is not a staff member, but merely volunteered her services for the review. In all fairness to the critic, she has a background in the theatre, and expressed her opinion using her knowledge to analyze things an outsider might overlook.

P.S. Wanted: New Play Critic for the Lion.

Dear Mr. Biondi:

I have read with interest, the last several editions of your paper and was taken aback by your editorial comment in the recent issues and would only like to add my voice to that of another concerned parent, Frank O'Rourke.

Sincerely,
James A. Jennings, Jr.

Dear Mr. Jennings:
Score: Concerned Parents – 3

An Open Letter to the St. Leo College Community

In regards to my actions following the hearings on October 27, 1971: I fully realize that my actions embarrassed my fellow court members and was derogatory to all the time and effort the court has put in.

I offer my sincere apologies to all the court members and anyone who was in attendance.

Sincerely yours,
Edward Carhart

Student Senate Meeting Nov. 2

The first topic of this meeting was the election of two alternates for the Judicial Review Committee. After a long debate, a motion was made to bring it to a vote. The students elected were Janet Jones and Brian Cody.

The next topic on the agenda was a report from the Academic Affairs Committee. Greg Masi, chairman of this committee, explained that if anyone has an exam conflict, go to the teacher of that subject. If the teachers refuse to change their schedule, Dr. Peterson will change it.

Pat Ryan, the vice president, made a motion that people on the Judiciary Committee be either from the Senate or the Executive Board. All motions from the Senate go to the Executive Board. The Senate can overrule any decision by a two-thirds vote.

The Library Committee reported that Mr. Casey asked them to take a consensus on how many students use the library.

A motion was made that the three freshmen on the campus court have a right to vote. The motion had been voted upon and it carried a unanimous vote.

Season Ends for Monarchs and Seniors

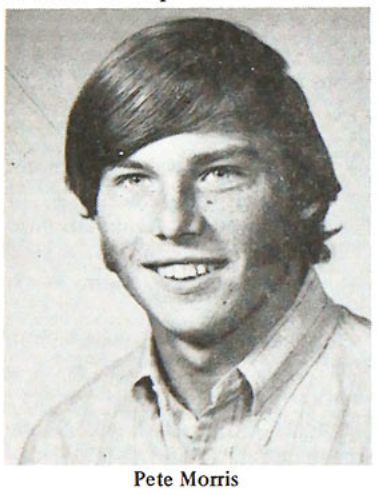
As the 1971 St. Leo soccer season ends, so do the careers of three seniors, who last Saturday played their final game in the SLC Green and Gold against Florida Technical Institute of Melbourne. The three seniors are: Arthur Bucci from Byram, Conn., Peter Morris from Fairport, New York, and Jimmy Martins from Col Roma, Mexico.

During their college careers they have seen the St. Leo soccer program grow from such early beginnings as a minor sport in 1968 to the level of a major sport in 1971 with the recognition of the NCAA. Combined these seniors have played in a total of 100 soccer games minus practice games and averaged just under 1500 hours of practice.



Pete Morris

Arthur Bucci, a 5'5 140 pound senior, completes his first year of soccer and so far has appeared in all ten Monarch games.

Jimmy Martins

Pete Morris completes his fourth year in a SLC uniform with numerous accomplishments to his credit. In 1969 after a dismal season in which the Monarchs won three of sixteen games, Pete was selected to the All Conference Second Team at the halfback position.

In 1970, Pete scored five goals and six assists to lead the Monarchs to a 2 and 12 record overall. At the end of the season he was again selected to the All Conference Second Team at forward.

So far in 1971, Pete has a total of eleven points to lead the Monarchs in scoring. Probably he will be selected to the All Conference Team.

Jimmy Martins, a 5'7, 140 pound speedster from South of the Border, has played in 40 games for the Monarchs. He has been hampered by leg injuries which plagued him in 1969 and 1970. A knee injury in 1970 forced him to play only five games for the Monarchs, as the team slumped in winning only two of fourteen games.

So far in 1971, Jimmy has averaged a point a game for the Monarchs who after a slow start, in which they lost four of five games, are now playing solid soccer. Jimmy, Carmen Santoro, Pete Morris and Steve Erbe combine to give the Monarchs a solid front line that has provided the fans with a season ending four game winning streak. The Monarchs' final record of five and six is indicative of the fact that the Monarch booters won 4 of their last 5 games.

Arthur Bucci

Next year Coach John Swart will have to look far to replace Jimmy Martins, Pete Morris and Arthur Bucci.

St. Leo Scoring

| | Goals | Assists | Points |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pete Morris | 7 | 4 | 11 |
| Steve Erbe | 8 | 2 | 10 |
| Carmen Santoro | 5 | 3 | 8 |
| Bob Baker | 2 | 6 | 8 |
| Jim Martins | 4 | 3 | 7 |
| Bo Shashkewich | 5 | 2 | 7 |
| Rick Ammean | 1 | 1 | 2 |
| Carmine Sesa | 1 | 1 | 2 |
| Rainer Lilenthal | 1 | 0 | 1 |

Leader in goals — Steve Erbe Freshman
Leader in assists — Bob Baker Junior
Total points — Pete Morris Senior

Late Notice

The improved St. Leo Monarchs finished their 1971 campaign last Saturday with a rousing 4-0 win over Florida Tech. Pete Morris scored all four goals as the Monarchs ended their season with a 4 game winning streak and a five and six record.
